

As I do not trust second-hand accounts, or even my own memory, and as I desire this volume to record facts accurately, I have had every passage read and checked by a recognized authority. Whenever I have been aided by some especially helpful book which is little known to the general public, proper citation to it is made. The manuscript has also been critically examined by my journalistic friends F. Theo Rogers of the Philippine Free Press and Carlos P. Romulo, publisher of the D-M-H-M papers. Their blue pencils spared neither my manuscript nor my feelings. But for the opinions expressed in this book, I am alone responsible. My secretary, Edilberto Soriano, has uncomplainingly carried the burden of preparing the copy*. To all who helped I make this expression of thanks.

GEORGE A. MALCOLM